New Jersey Administrative Code, N.J.A.C. 11:17-2.2(c) allows producers licensed with life authority prior to November 4, 2002 and who hold a securities license, to continue to sell variable products until December 31, 2003. During this transition period, these producers may add variable authority to their license by providing their NASD or Securities license or registration number without the usual $20.00 processing fee. After December 31, 2003, no life producer can sell variable life or variable annuity products unless he or she adds the variable life and variable annuity authority and pays the $20.00 processing fee.
